Mike and Leslie M.

On Chubb's superior service:

"Chubb's used to dealing with clients who demand a high level of quality, and that's what they deliver on."

On the Chubb claims process:

"It was completely hassle-free, and it was the only pleasant aspect of the whole ordeal. Chubb took care of everything."

On the value of having Chubb:

"Chubb has my best interests in mind."

In the fall of 2011, Hurricane Irene raged through Mike and Leslie's area. Like so many families, they lost power, and because their pump was no longer working, the basement severely flooded.

They immediately called their Chubb agent at Rollins and started the claims process. It was that simple; they didn't have to get multiple quotes or chase anyone down. They wanted their repairs to mirror the same quality they had before and were pleased that this was all part of the Chubb promise. Chubb specializes in dealing with people who want things done a certain way, and they don't take any shortcuts when restoring a home to its former glory.

Mike and Leslie were thrilled with how easy and smooth the entire process was. In fact, they were barely even involved, which speaks to how user-friendly the Chubb experience really is. After just a few phone calls, everything was taken care of and claims were paid swiftly. Because their claim size was so big, their deductible was actually reimbursed. Chubb walked them through the claims process quickly, honestly, and professionally.

With Chubb, they feel safe and protected. They know from experience that Chubb has their interests in mind.
